Learnings from Incidents from Duty Holder Reviews

by Neil Mookerjee, Duty Holder Review (DHR) Manager, Specialist Interventions, WorkSafe NZ.

Join us for a discussion about the DHR process with Neil who leads the team in Auckland. This will be of interest to all members wanting to know more about the DHR process.

The DHR review process is a regulatory response that WorkSafe may decide on when reviewing an incident that has been notified. It is designed to enable the duty holder to review their H&S systems and provide assurance to the regulator that systems have been improved.
